To whom it may concern:

Boris delivered a fantastic presentation that was energetic and interactive. He was easy to work with, and his professionalism was apparent from our initial contact, to his hilarious stage performance. He had the audience captivated for 90 minutes with each skit building on previous laughter.

It was a perfect highlight to an Appreciation Night held on June 14, 2022, for contributors to the McHappy Day Campaign's success, which included crew members, restaurant managers, politicians, and VIPs. The campaign raised $167,920 for the Ronald McDonald Room at Markham Stouffville Hospital, which receives about 14,000 visits a year from families caring for their seriously ill child.

The show delivered a story that captivated the audience from start to finish, flowed very nicely, and contained inspirational messaging. Boris was sensitive to a diverse audience and was inclusive, politically correct, and extremely entertaining. His friendly demeanor had participants eagerly fill the stage to get hypnotized and laughter filled the ballroom as a result of skillfully crafted routines.

Boris was delightful to work with and made a perfect event memorable. I recommend Boris with great confidence for any function requiring inspiration, laughter, and audience participation.
